Carver Tries To Block Payment

by Marileen Maher
Echo News Editor

Bay St. Louis Mayor Warren Carver tried unsuccessfully Monday night to prevent payment of $101,000 to the city's utilities system from a state loan fund. The funds were a reimbursement for monies transferred from the utilities fund to the city's general fund over the past three years.

In his first attempt to block the transfer of funds, Carver quoted a state statute claiming that "money from state loan funds may be used only as matching money to obtain federal funds". At this point, Commissioner of Utilities William Frisbie told Carver that he was "quoting out of context and using the statement to suit his own needs". A heated argument followed in which Frisbie claimed that he too had read the law and stated that the money may be used for other purposes.

Both Carver and Commissioner Andre Arceneaux suggested that the matter be postponed until City Attorney Gerald Gex study the statute and render a decision at a future meeting. However, Frisbie demanded that the matter be settled that night because the proposal had already been delayed twice. "I brought this up twice before and you asked for time to study it. I gave you that time and now you want to postpone it again," Frisbie told Carver.

Reading from a copy of the Mississippi Code Book, Gex disagreed with Carver explaining that the "matching funds stipulation applies to state grants". Gex went on to explain that state loan funds may be used for "governmental functions".

Carver then objected to the way the money was to be spent. Commissioner Frisbie commented that this money would be used to finance extension of water services into a portion of the annexed area. "I would like to see a complete work scope on the project and find out if this thing should be let for bids," Carver said.

Frisbie explained that all plans and specifications had been worked up by the Interim Assistance Program and that city utility crews would be used on the project. "If we put it out for bids, the engineer estimated that the project would cost approximately $150,000. With city crews it will cost a little more than $100,000."

Carver argued that the money could be used to obtain matching funds from the Economic Development Administration and he felt the city was losing money by spending it on the water project. However, Frisbie explained that the water service program could be used as "in-kind financing" for obtaining federal funds.

Arceneaux then seconded Frisbie's motion to transfer the funds and said, "I think this project is a very good one. We have good city crews and I think they can do the job." Carver voted against the motion.

In other business, the council instructed Gex to prepare the necessary resolutions indicating a willingness to participate in the Neighborhood Development Program. The program is designed to rehabilitate substandard housing or remove housing that can not be improved in an area near Old Spanish Trail.

ROY CURTIS BARTON, 25, was killed when his 1970 VW station wagon, above, collided head-on with a Chevrolet sedan on a stretch of unfinished I-10 near Diamondhead Friday night. Barton was pinned between the seat and dashboard of the demolished car and died before he could be extricated.

Firemen Fight 'Christmas Tree'

by Adoree Shortle
Echo staff writer

A crowd of Bay-Waveland residents gathered in an open field behind Bay Senior High School Monday night to witness a spectacular state fire training exercise.

Termed a "Christmas Tree Burning", the demonstration was staged by James T. Hart, commandant of the State Fire Training School in Jackson, for the benefit of fire department personnel from Waveland, Bay St. Louis, Pass Christian, Hattiesburg, and Moss Point.

The demonstration was scheduled to follow a five-week training school in fire fighting which Hart held in Bay St. Louis earlier this spring. Inclement weather and electrical storms canceled the initial burning, which was re-scheduled for Monday night.

A gas pipe structure, resembling a Christmas tree, is erected in an open field. LP (liquid petroleum) gas fed through openings in the pipes is ignited, bursting into a 50-foot column of roaring flames. The gas is fed to the "tree" from tank trucks several hundred feet away.

Hart directs the demonstration as a team of men from each fire department, clad in full bunker gear, moves into the fire behind a protective "water wall". One fireman crawls on the ground between those holding the hose until he can reach, and turn off, the gas valve 30 inches from the heart of the fire. The whole group then falls back slowly, still holding the fog of water on the tree. The structure is again ignited, and another group moves in.

Ignited, the tree produces 4,900,000 BTU's of heat per minute, Hart said; the intensity of the flame would damage or destroy any unprotected object within a radius of 200 feet. By way of illustration, Hart explained that the amount of BTU's consumed in one minute of burning would heat a five-room house for five days.

The main purpose of the unusual exercise, Hart related, is to teach firemen discipline and develop self-confidence in fighting a serious conflagration. In a "tree burning" the fireman is exposed to most of the conditions of a large fire such as intense heat, noise, danger, and the need for close coordination. In addition they learn not to just extinguish an LP fire but to cut off the source of supply, to insure area safety.

Assisting Hart in the demonstration were P. A. Ross, Hattiesburg training officer, Victor Homberg, assistant chief of Moss Point Fire Dept. and Martin Blough, Jackson fire equipment supplier.

Nolan Kingston, Bay St. Louis distributor for Blossman Gas Co., donated the LP gas at a minimal cost for the burning in cooperation with local fire departments.

Bay St. Louis Fire Dept. hosted a shrimp and crab boil for visiting fire personnel following the demonstration. Hart will supervise another "tree burning" Friday night in Ocean Springs.

Frisbie Announces Water Extension

A project to extend water service into a portion of the annexed area of Bay St. Louis will begin next week according to Commissioner of Utilities William Frisbie.

Frisbie said that all plans and specifications had been drawn up by the Interim Assistance Program and had been approved by the necessary state agencies. He stated that originally the project had been turned down by the Department of Housing and Urban Development because work under the IAP

Two Killed In Accident

Two persons were killed and another seriously injured in a two-car collision Friday night on a Hancock County highway near Diamondhead.

The two deaths raised the number of highway traffic fatalities in the area to three in three days.

The accident occurred about 7:45 p.m. when a 1970 Volkswagen station wagon, driven by Roy Curtis Barton, 25, of Bay St. Louis, collided head-on with a 1967 Chevrolet sedan driven by Linda Stevens, 22, of Piquette, Miss. The cars met at the crest of the Jordan River bridge between Highway 603 and the Diamondhead turnoff.

Barton was pinned in the front seat of the station wagon and died before he could be extricated from the demolished automobile. The Stevens woman was taken by Riemann Fahy ambulance to Hancock General Hospital. Despite emergency treatment by members of the hospital medical staff, she died a few hours later from injuries received in the crash.

A passenger in the Stevens car and the dead woman's grandfather, Autman Edison, 54, was also brought to Hancock General in critical condition. He was transferred to Cohner Foundation where he was confined to the intensive care unit and died in guarded condition, according to a hospital spokesman Saturday morning.

Edison, who lives at 1206 Clarendon St., Piquette, is employed in the construction division at Diamondhead and Barton was a golf pro. The Stevens girl was to begin work Saturday at the Diamondhead Country Club.

The third Diamondhead related traffic death occurred Wednesday afternoon when the 10-year-old daughter of a Diamondhead land consultant was killed in a two-car collision on Highway 90 at the Bay Bridge. Both accidents are still under investigation.

Hancock sheriff's deputies James Lader and William Tate were investigating officers. Assisting in rescue efforts and traffic control were beat four Constable Sam Pernicelli, Highway Safety Patrolman James Woodfin, Sheriff Sylvan Lader and Diamondhead personnel.

TIP Nets 21 Arrests During Past Month

Earl Riley, executive director of the Mississippi Coast Crime Commission, has announced that the TIP, Turn In A Pusher, Program, co-sponsored by the seven Coast Chambers of Commerce, has received 787 valid "tips" since initiation of the Program on November 19, 1971.

Riley said, "90 arrests have resulted from these tips, 21 arrests during the past month. Prosecutions and convictions are beginning to catch up with the TIP Program, and we are very happy to announce that $550.00 has been paid to date to those individuals who have contributed 'tips' to this program. From this point on," continued Riley, "we anticipate convictions to increase and many more rewards will be paid to those individuals who have turned in sound and valid 'tips.' These people, anonymous though they must remain, deserve the gratitude of all three Coast counties participating in this Program."

"The illegal traffic of drugs," said Riley, "continues to be a major problem here on the Coast and throughout the Nation. It has been described by State officials as being of 'epidemic' proportions in the State of Mississippi."

Dialogues On Dope

by Adoree Shortle
Echo staff writer

(This is the third in a public service series on the narcotics situation in Hancock and West Harrison Counties. Facts and statements expressed in these articles have been compiled from interviews with narcotics users and law enforcement officials in Waveland, Bay St. Louis, Pass Christian and Long Beach.)

What are Coast police doing about the narcotics problem? Until just recently, local police weren't doing anything. Most of them either weren't aware there was a problem or knew it, but didn't know what to do about it. In 1973, things are going to be different.

Narcotics abuse in the Lakeshore through Long Beach area developed suddenly, rapidly and insidiously.

The 22 to 24-year-olds admit that when they were in high school narcotics use was an occasional thing. In less than six years the habit has grown to include an unbelievable percentage of the population, the majority in the 14 to 23-year-old class.

After the initial shock of realizing that it is running rampant and that they have been caught unprepared, more than a few police officers are now discovering that dope use has crept into their own homes.

But the picture is not at all as black as it appears on the surface. Just as we are dealing with a new breed of youth, a new breed of policemen is evolving, as more and more reformed dopers are defecting to the other side. At the same time, the older law enforcement officials are taking steps to rectify a lack of knowledge and training. Conditioned traditionally to a hard line adherence to the law, those smart enough to take a cue from young offenders are learning a more liberal interpretation of the law can be used to a decided advantage. The method is paying off for them.

At the same time, national and state agencies have been set up to inform, train and fund local-level police, offering schools, seminars, informational material and generous grants to provide and train special investigative agents, all available on request.

Since the average citizen knows literally nothing about the man who is poorly paid to protect him, here are some of the problems he is up against.

Today's policeman is fighting a losing battle in the narcotics war. Not with the users, but between increasingly liberal legislation and overly lenient judges, a patrolman or narcotics agent finds he is often spinning his wheels.

Following an arrest, he is hampered by constantly changing laws governing narcotics abuse and supreme court decisions which seem to be designed to protect the law breaker rather than support law enforcement.

The patrolman able to handle traffic violations, theft and public drunks is often totally unequipped to handle the complex procedures now necessary for an ultimate conviction as well as the initial arrest. Coupled with that the average policeman is completely unfamiliar with the various articles used in abundance by freaks, who evince a fascinating talent for creating new forms of disguise. About the time a patrolman, or agent, learns to recognize marijuana in its raw form or knows a joint when he sees one, the freaks are boiling stems and pieces in water and consuming large amounts of marijuana tea. How can you buy a guy in his home for drinking tea?

Or he cooks grass in butter, uses the well seasoned butter to make a cake and in the icing and gets stoned eating cake! There are almost as many ways to disguise marijuana for consumption as there are freaks doing it. This puts the policeman at a decided disadvantage.

Adding to his dilemma is the fact that the average doper early in the game becomes as much an authority on narcotics laws as he is on dope. Up until now he has been confident in the knowledge that he usually knows more than the policeman and regards law enforcement personnel with some disdain, or at the least condescension. That is what is going to bring about his downfall. He hasn't noticed that yesterday's cop is getting more sophisticated.

As dope abuse increases, so are narcotics arrests increasing. A look at narcotics arrest figures in Hancock County show an encouraging upswing in the first half of this year.

In January 1972, there was one arrest, a 14-year-old male. In February, there were three, one female and two males, all over 18 years of age in separate cases. Four juveniles were arrested in March, three girls and a boy, all in one case. No arrests were made in April.

In May, four separate cases netted 14 persons all arrested for possession and some for narcotics theft. Of the 14, only four were juveniles, all were under 30-years old. No arrests were made in June, but in July three adult males were arrested in two separate cases.

By August 23, 16 persons have been arrested in four separate cases. Although six were juveniles, all were under 25 years old. More than likely, there will be additional arrests before this month ends. Harrison County figures tell the same story. The percentage of arrests is vastly higher, understandably as there are more people in the city of Gulfport than in all of Hancock County. There are proportionately, considerably more police and special agents. Harrison County Sheriff Leroy Hobbs has been at this game a long time as has Long Beach Police Chief Harry Kaletsch. They know what they're doing and the freaks know it, too.

Tablets, Clothes, And Lunch Boxes: What Are The Priorities?

by Susan Irby
Echo News Director
Long Beach
Pass Christian Bureau

In the last decade space pioneers have ventured from a sheltered atmosphere into parts unknown to explore, to study, to progress. Their actions are history.

In like manner each fall, five and six-year-old children leave their parents to enter first grade to explore, to study, to progress.

Since modern communications provide for keeping the public informed of such historic events as an astronaut's trip to the moon, the staff of the Echo feels that equal coverage should be paid to the first grader.

In a press conference last Thursday with Echo News Editor Marileen Maher and Long Beach - Pass Christian Bureau News Director Susan Irby, four youngsters about to enter the first grade discussed preparations they are making for their historic event as well as their views on education and other sundry topics.

Representing the first graders of America were Monty McCaleb, six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy McCaleb of 8 Pecanwood Cove, Long Beach; Amy Monty, five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pedro (Tony) Monty of 509 Genin, Bay St.

astronauts and stuff like that.

Q. What will you do at school?

Monty: I'd like to get to climb things, get up in the basketball thing and make me a basketball.

Roslynn: I'm going to learn.

Amy: I think all we're going to do is color and write.

Kevin: Read books.

Q. What do you want to be when you grow up? Do you think school will help?

Roslynn: A major with a band.

Monty: A fireman.

Kevin: An airport man to take care of planes.

Amy: I don't know. I want to be so much stuff. One thing I'd like to be is a secretary. I saw Lucy on TV, but I'm not going to be like her. I don't want to have a Mr. Mooney.

All the children agreed that school would help them reach their ambitions, with Monty envisioning a crash course in fire fighting and Amy, hoping to learn how to type and to print.

Q. Did your mother and daddy go to school? How do you know?

Monty: Yes, they keep on talking about it. They tell me when they go.

Roslynn: Yes, they told me.

Amy: Yeah, that's how they got smart. I want to be as smart as my daddy cause he's the smartest. He knows lots of stuff. He knows more than Mamma.

"I don't know. I want to be so much stuff."

Kevin: Yes, cause one day we looked at their school books.

Kevin said he didn't think he'd be as smart as his parents no matter how long he went to school.

Q. What supplies has your mother bought you for school?

Amy: She bought one of the kind of pads you write on and colors. She made some clothes.

Roslynn: Scissors and colors and tablet and clothes.

Monty: A lunchbox.

Kevin: Some crayons, a school box to put my stuff in, some new clothes.

Amy: I had a school box, too, but I forgot it.

Q. Is there anything your mother hasn't bought that you think you'll need?

Kevin: A lunchbox.

Amy: She forgot to make me some more jumpers and she forgot to get me a school skirt.

Monty: Pencils.

Q. What do you think you'll be taking to school that first day?

Roslynn: Colors, scissors and pencils.

Kevin: My lunch pail.

Monty: Pencils, magic marker and lunch box.

Q. Has your mother told you how to behave in school?

Amy: She told me to be good, stay still and don't take it, but at first, Mama said I might have to buy it. I'll cost a quarter and a dime and a nickel.

Q. How long will school last? What time will you go and when will you come back home?

Monty: A year. I'll go about 7:30 and come home at 3.

Kevin: School lasts a year, I'll go early in the morning and come home at 6 p.m.

Q. Will you have a boyfriend or a girlfriend in school? Do you think you'll ever get married?

Amy: I already have one. Maybe we'll get married.

Monty: Yes, I have a girlfriend and I'll marry her but I don't know when.

Refreshments were served following the conference, and the discussion switched from school to anything the children wanted to talk about. Amy asked the photographer not to take her picture while she was drinking her soft drink.

She asked when her picture would be in the paper and was

"... a lady teacher is smarter than a man."

woman teacher?

Kevin: A man. I think a man would be easier.

Monty: A woman because she isn't as horrible as a man. A man's horrible cause he yells too loud.

Roslynn: I'd rather have a lady cause a lady teacher is smarter than a man.

Monty: I don't think a lady teacher is smarter. They're the very same smart.

Q. Are you going to take your lunch to school or buy it?

Amy: I'm going to have to

"I want to grow up to be 20."

relieved to hear it would be the following week.

"I'm glad Mama's not going to see it cause she promised to give me a Coke when I got home," Amy said.

Q. How do you like having your picture taken?

Monty: Punny.

Q. What is college?

Amy: A big school where you wear square hats and have feathers hanging down here (motioning in front of her face).

going to be puny.

Amy: I guess coloring and writing.

Kevin: Reading books.

Roslynn: Going outside.

Q. What's going to be the hardest thing about school?

Roslynn: To write.

Monty: I think it's going to be really, really puny.

Campion Resigns As City Clerk

An altercation among Waveland council members at a meeting last Wednesday over a city equipment service contract, as well as repair costs for the city's water pumping system resulted in Alderman Dan Campion turning in a written resignation as City Clerk.

Campion and the other aldermen became embroiled in several sporadic arguments during the course of the lengthy meeting over differences of opinion concerning city management policies. The resignation came after Campion took the council to task for a lack of action on needed water pump maintenance. Alderman John Longo retorted that councilmen didn't know anything about the pumping system problems "until we read it in the paper". Longo, Ducre, Bourgeois and Albert Grass accused Campion of not informing them of the pumps' conditions nor of submitting repair estimates for council consideration.

Campion heatedly maintained that he had discussed the problem, as well as others, in past meetings. No action was taken on the resignation.

In other business, the council considered a petition, signed by seven residents of Whispering Pines St., bringing complaint against William A. Richardson of 109 Whispering Pines. Three of the signers, Vincent Schott, Dr. Henry Maggio and Wallace Brown submitted the petition which charged Richardson with discharging waste from his septic tank into the public street. According to the three men, Richardson allegedly broke a section of the sidewalk to divert the septic tank flow into the gutter in front of his residence.

The petition further stated that the signers believe that Richardson doesn't have a drain field on his property, therefore the waste material draining off his property constitutes a health hazard. It also charged that the open drain floods gutters on adjoining properties and has become an attractive nuisance to neighborhood children.

City attorney Gerald Gex said that the only legal recourse would be for the city to serve the accused property owner with papers directing him to install a drain field on his property and re-direct the septic tank drain. Action was tabled pending further investigation of alternative steps.

Terry Feeney, as Waveland United Fund Chairman, asked the council to authorize a payroll deduction plan for city employees wanting to make regular fund donations. Alderman Bourgeois said he felt the deduction plan unwarranted as city employees don't get paid enough to make such donations. Feeney countered with the suggestion that "if you feel your salaries are too small, why don't you raise them and pay your people properly?"

Campion suggested that Feeney write a letter to city employees asking for voluntary donations without city involvement.

In an unrelated action, the council passed an ordinance regulating the speed of trains on the Louisville and Nashville railroad traveling through the city limits, to a maximum of 35 miles per hour. Violations could bring fines of $100 to $500, the ordinance stipulated.

The matter of privilege licenses for businesses operating in residential neighborhoods was brought for consideration. Campion referred to two businesses in

Colling's Corner

By E.S. Colling

City-County Library Writer

The loveliest picture of peace and rest that we know of is a little poem by the German poet, Heine, which translates: Over all the hills it is calm, Over all the forest you can feel scarcely a breath of air; The little birds are silent in the woods; Just wait: soon you too will be at peace.

These are the quiet days of the year, when Nature has finished her creative labors and is drowsily building her strength to meet the stormy winter. And nowhere more than in the countryside and woodlands of Mississippi can man lie back and rest from the sole of his boots to the soul of his being.

We know a little place up north and east of Kiln where we go whenever "life is too tight around our shins". Beauty is there in the rolling woods of pine and oak and cedar and all day long there is never a sound but the far-off lowing of our neighbor's herd, the cry of a bird, and the tinkling of our little bayou as it wanders down the hillside ripples and little falls to deep bathing pools. On the hillside behind the creek is an old and charming cabin; two rooms were built about 65 years ago beside a well; later two more rooms and a wide porch were added. A white picket fence encloses the cabin, and in one corner of the lot is a magnificent cedar tree, which must have been the one that Joyce Kilmer was thinking of when he wrote his famous poem.

Behind the cabin at some distance is another bayou, and near it are traces of an old steam sawmill which decimated the heavy pine woods around the turn of the century; not far down the road you can see where the railroad crossed, which carried logs from the deeper pine woods to the big sawmill at Kiln, where our old friend "Uncle Joe Roddie was the boss."

Here in this quiet corner of Paradise is peace and balm for the soul. Here history comes to life again: the thousands of men and women who knew these woods, of Indians who camped beside the little bayou, of young men on their way to and from the battle of New Orleans, of bandits and posers and runaway slaves, of young mothers and children on their way to a new home—here in this tranquil setting the yeast that "formed" Mississippi fermented and birthed a State and its people.

So we wander in the sunshine, listen to the thunder and the rain on the shake-down roof, and wonder what man can buy that which is half as precious as this. As Father Divine would have said, "Peace—it's wonderful!"

Letters to the editor

Dear Sir:

The following paragraph is extracted from a daily paper of Aug. 18. The item covers a Waveland City Council meeting of that week:

"Also discussed were Humane Society complaints about the city dogcatcher's alleged inhuman actions in the performance of his job." Campton said he has received several calls that the dogcatcher was dragging dead animals away before young children."

This seems to be another in the list of allegations concerning the "incompetence" of various city officials.

In this case, what would Mr. Campton have the dogcatcher do? Chase the children out of the neighborhood? Leave the carcass to decompose? Obviously, he can't do the former. How can one expel a child from his area of residence? Equally obviously, he can't do the latter.

This would create a health and sanitation situation for which there is no intelligent excuse. Therefore, the only thing he can do is remove the remains regardless of the witnesses.

At this point, I see nothing "inhuman" in his performance. There were no other specific actions mentioned, so it would seem that the charges are unfounded.

In the past few weeks, Mr. Campton has accused the Water Dept. of "incompetence". Since this department is normally supervised by Mayor Ladner, this reader can only assume the City Clerk is attempting to discredit the city's top official.

At this meeting, Mr. Campton tendered his written resignation as City Clerk. I suggest the Board of Aldermen unanimously accept it.

Are You "Car Careless"?

Number One victim of car neglect is the battery cable and terminal, shown here. According to Car Care Council, who surveyed Independent Garage Owners of America, this part is most overlooked of all preventive maintenance services and parts. Spark plug wires and radiator hoses run a close race for second place.

How long has it been since you've asked someone to take a look at your car's wiring or radiator hose? It may have been quite a while, if you are typical of car owners reported in a poll of 370 automotive repairmen.

The survey, conducted by Car Care Council among members of the Independent Garage Owners of America, shows many motorists tend to ignore battery cables, spark plug wires, radiator hose and pressure cap until failure has resulted.

In the case of battery cables, which topped the list of neglected components, trouble is likely to take the form of starting failure.

Especially vulnerable are the connections on the battery itself. Corrosion which accumulates on these surfaces can restrict the flow of current from the battery to the starter, resulting in symptoms similar to a weak or dead battery. Car Care Council recommends having these terminals removed, cleaned and covered with a protective coating at least twice a year.

Deteriorated spark plug wiring usually will result in mis-

Shame And Sorrow

Wednesday was a pretty day. Balm and sunny. The morning rain had cooled and freshened. The bay waters sparkled. In the afternoon, a child was killed. A beautiful little girl, 10 years old. Whose child was she? She was everybody's child. Everybody's child who should never have to cross the highway at the foot of the Bay Bridge.

A car filled with vacationers, six members of a family, came off the bridge as a car driven by a young mother with her two children and a little friend crossed the highway at the bridge. A terrible rending of steel, the screaming of brakes - everybody was hurt. One was dead.

Everyone keeps asking "Who's fault was it?" It was neither driver's fault. The officials of Bay St. Louis and Hancock County and the Mississippi Highway Department are at fault. They carry the blame and the shame for this tragedy and all the countless past accidents at the same spot.

There is one inadequate sign on the Bay Bridge warning of a traffic light ahead. At certain times of the day, especially going west, the sun is in your eyes and you can't even see the signal light. Coast residents know it's there, but strangers don't.

In our opinion, it is the elected officials' responsibility to call the attention of the highway department to the problem, and then to demand something be done about it. It isn't easy to get the highway department to do these things - but it can be done. How many more deaths will it take?

We are desperately writing articles and series to jolt the public about the narcotics disease eating at our children, and we do it with only one aim in mind. To save our children from narcotics abuse so they can lead productive and happy lives. It seems we're saving them from narcotics abuse so they can get killed on the highway.

Your shame and our sorrow.

Tips To Veterans And Dependents

PREPARED BY CHESTER CURVEY HANCOCK COUNTY VETERANS SERVICE OFFICER

All veterans with at least 181 days active service since January 31, 1955 may be eligible for Apprenticeship of "On The Job" Training Benefits. NOTE: Active duty for training will not be considered. Eligible veterans will receive in addition to their pay from their employer an extra $100.00 per month if single; $120.00 with one dependent and $133.00 per month with two dependents, from the Veterans Administration. This will enable them to remain on a comparatively low paying job until their skill increases and subsequently their wages.

To get this benefit the job must be approved by the State Approving Agency. Here is how the procedure works, step by step, in getting this veterans benefit.

a. The Veteran goes to an establishment and gets a job. (The Veterans Employment Representative at The State Employment Office is there to help you) Example: Litton Industries or any place that is equipped to train an unskilled worker in a trade until he becomes skilled.

b. The Veteran then goes to a Veterans Service Officer and fills out a Form 21-E-1990, titled, Request For Educational Training.

c. The Veterans Administration will, upon receipt of this form, send a letter to the veteran telling him that his Training Program is approved and tell him how many months entitlement he has plus other pertinent information. A copy of this letter also goes to the Miss. State Approving Agency.

d. The State Approving Agency will visit the place of business to determine whether it meets the training capabilities that are required and if so approve it for training. The establishment might have been pre-approved in which case the employer will be requested to prepare the Veterans Enrollment

Certification (V.A. Form 21E-1999) The V.A. is furnished a copy of this agreement by the State Approving Agency. e. The veterans will start receiving checks from the V.A. depending upon the date the V.A. authorizes the payments. The first check may be for a part of a month, and will be accompanied by a Form 21E-6553A. This form must be read carefully and filled out completely and returned to the V.A. each month or no further payments will be made.

Veterans may already be working at a job that can be approved for training benefits. Call or visit your Veterans Service Officer to see what can be done to help you get a job, get training benefits or get a better education. NOTE: The Veterans Service Officer's phone number has been changed. In your phone book look up Hancock County and under District Attorney write Service Officer. Phone number is 467-5404.

Forestry Report

Mississippi's private timberland owners are being urged by State Forester Billy Gaddis to take immediate advantage of forest management services offered by the State Forestry Commission.

The State Forester points out that trained foresters with the Commission can provide assistance in timber management, planning, timber sale preparation, and a number of other vital aspects of profitable tree farming.

Gaddis said that it is urgent that private landowners take steps now to get their forest acres fully productive. "We are on the threshold of greater demands for our timber, which can mean abundant markets if we have the timber available," he added. He further stated, however, that without resources to supply the timber using industries, markets will diminish.

The key to increased production is with the private timberland owner who owns seventy-five percent of Mississippi's forested acres. The greatest need according to Gaddis is to plant poorly stocked lands and to control weed tree species. Proper harvesting and utilization are tantamount in increasing timber growth.

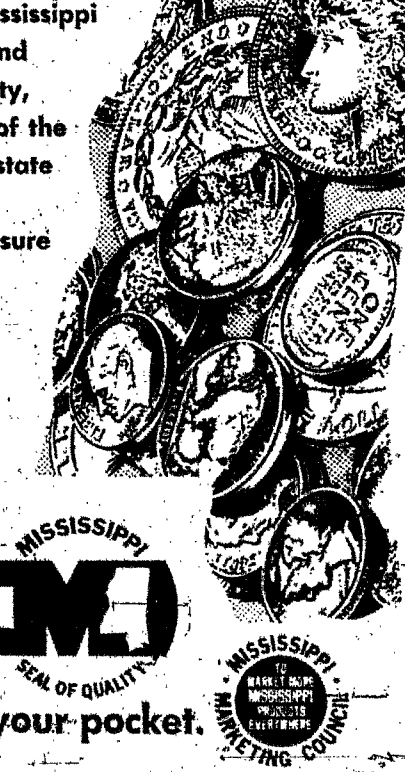

The State Forester advises that the Forestry Commission is intensifying its effort to assist timberland owners.

"The well-being of each citizen and the overall growth of Mississippi will be influenced by what we do with our forest land," he concluded.

Red Beans And Rice

Adore Shortle

"Double, double, toil and trouble, fire burn and candles bubble."
(with apologies to Shakespeare)

It's interesting to watch the boiling pot of a local city council, which for years has been kept just barely simmering, but of late, is showing alarming signs of boiling over. Consider the elements within.

One is usually dozing and doesn't know what is going on. Another is usually awake, but doesn't understand what is going on. A third is capable of understanding but is apparently highly susceptible to mal de mer as he shows a decided aversion to ever rocking the boat, or making waves. A fourth one, afflicted with a malady popularly known as "progressive", keeps bringing up beans which have traditionally been left soaking in a state of suspended animation. . . in a political purgatory, as it were.

No acclaim has ever been won for a totally bland pot of beans, nor has an unimaginative cook ever produced anything of note. By the same token, too many conflicting ingredients can certainly cause a bad aftertaste in the mouth. Perhaps a fair accomplishment lies in the more aggressive cook using the same spices but with more subtlety, and the realization that he is not obliged to cook the whole thing alone. Without prostituting his principles, a pinch of temperance may bring more cooperation . . . and finally, produce a pot of beans much easier to take!

POLITICAL PUGILISM

Down the road, there is another city council (composed of only three men) who for more than three years has engaged in the fine art of vocal sparring. Although the record may show that they agreed more times than not, it's the disagreements that make the headlines.

Take Monday night for example. During a heated argument between Mayor Warren Carver and Commissioner William Frisbie, it looked as though the fists might soon begin to fly. Voices got higher and Commissioner Andre Arceneaux was refereeing from the sidelines. Newspaper reporters were distraught because, in the event of a "K.O.," there was not a camera to be had . . . not even a Polaroid on hand. Would it be that this historic event would go pictorially unrecorded for the benefit of future generations?

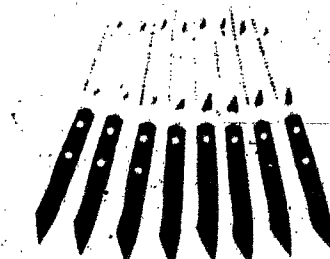

Suddenly, Mayor Carver sighed, and said to Commissioner Frisbie, "You make me tired." Not to be undone, Frisbie retorted, "You make me awful tired." They took the words right out of my mouth.

Colling's Corner

By E.S. Colling

City-County Library Writer

The loveliest picture of peace and rest that we know of is a little poem by the German poet, Heine, which translates: "Over all the hills it is calm, Over all the forest you can feel scarcely a breath of air; The little birds are silent in the woods; Just wait: soon you too will be at peace."

These are the quiet days of the year, when Nature has finished her creative labors, and is drowsily building her strength to meet the stormy winter. And nowhere more than in the countryside and woodlands of Mississippi can man lie back and rest from the sole of his boots to the soul of his being.

We know a little place up north and east of Kiln where we go whenever "life is too tight around our shins". Beauty is there in the rolling woods of pine and oak and cedar and all day long there is never a sound but the far-off lowing of our neighbor's herd, the cry of a bird, and the tinkling of our little bayou as it wanders down the hillside in ripples and little falls to deep bathing pools. On the hillside behind the creek is an old and charming cabin; two rooms were built about 65 years ago beside a well; later two more rooms and a wide porch were added. A white picket fence encloses the cabin, and in one corner of the lot is a magnificent cedar tree, which must have been the one that Joyce Kilmer was thinking of when he wrote his famous poem.

Behind the cabin at some distance is another bayou, and near it are traces of an old steam sawmill which decimated the heavy pine woods around the turn of the century; not far down the road you can see where the railroad crossed, which carried logs from the deeper pine woods to the big sawmill at Kiln, where our old friend Uncle Joe Roddie was the boss.

Here in this quiet corner of Paradise is peace and balm for the soul. Here history comes to life again: the thousands of men and women who knew these woods, of Indians who camped beside the little bayou, of young men on their way to and from the battle of New Orleans, of bandits and posers, and runaway slaves, of young mothers and children on their way to a new home—here in this tranquil setting the yeast that formed Mississippi fermented and birthed a State and its people.

So we wander in the sunshine, listen to the thunder and the rain on the shake-down roof, and wonder what man can buy that which is half as precious as this. As Father Divine would have said, "Peace—it's wonderful!"

Letters to the editor

Dear Sir:

The following paragraph is extracted from a daily paper of Aug. 18. The item covers a Waveland City Council meeting of that week:

"Also discussed were Humane Society complaints about the city dogcatcher's alleged inhuman actions in the performance of his job." Campion said he has received several calls that the dogcatcher was dragging dead animals away before young children.

This seems to be another in the list of allegations concerning the "incompetence" of various city officials.

In this case, what would Mr. Campion have the dogcatcher do? Chase the children out of the neighborhood? Leave the carcasses to decompose? Obviously, he can't do the former. How can one expel a child from his area of residence? Equally obviously, he can't do the latter.

This would create a health and sanitation situation for which there is no intelligent excuse, therefore, the only thing he can do is remove the remains regardless of the witnesses. At this point, I see nothing "inhuman" in his performance. There were no other specific actions mentioned, so it would seem that the charges are unfounded.

In the past few weeks, Mr. Campion has accused the Water Dept. of "incompetence". Since this department is normally supervised by Mayor Ladner, this reader can only assume the City Clerk is attempting to discredit the city's top official. And now, the dogcatcher. Is Mr. Campion trying to replace both officials?

At this meeting, Mr. Campion tendered his written resignation as City Clerk. I suggest the Board of Aldermen unanimously accept it. Estelle Decker Waveland, Miss.

Shame And Sorrow

Wednesday was a pretty day. Balm and sunny. The morning rain had cooled and freshened. The bay waters sparkled. In the afternoon, a child was killed. A beautiful little girl, 10 years old. Whose child was she? She was everybody's child. Everybody's child who should never have to cross the highway at the foot of the Bay Bridge.

A car filled with vacationers, six members of a family, came off the bridge as a car driven by a young mother with her two children and a little friend crossed the highway at the bridge. A terrible rending of steel, the screaming of brakes—everybody was hurt. One was dead.

Everyone keeps asking "Who's fault was it?" It was neither driver's fault. The officials of Bay St. Louis and Hancock County and the Mississippi Highway Department are at fault. They carry the blame and the shame for this tragedy and all the countless past accidents at the same spot.

There is one inadequate sign on the Bay Bridge warning of a traffic light ahead. At certain times of the day, especially going west, the sun is in your eyes and you can't even see the signal light. Coast residents know it's there, but strangers don't.

In our opinion, it is the elected officials' responsibility to call the attention of the highway department to the problem, and then to demand something be done about it. It isn't easy to get the highway department to do these things—but it can be done.

How many more deaths will it take?

We are desperately writing articles and series to jolt the public about the narcotics disease eating at our children, and we do it with only one aim in mind. To save our children from narcotics abuse so they can lead productive and happy lives.

It seems we're saving them from narcotics abuse so they can get killed on the highway.

Your shame and our sorrow.

Tips To Veterans And Dependents

PREPARED BY CHESTER CURVEY HANCOCK COUNTY VETERANS SERVICE OFFICER

All veterans with at least 181 days active service since January 31, 1955 may be eligible for Apprenticeship of "On The Job" Training Benefits. NOTE: Active duty for training will not be considered. Eligible veterans will receive in addition to their pay from their employer an extra $100.00 per month if single; $120.00 with one dependent and $138.00 per month with two dependents, from the Veterans Administration. This will enable them to remain on a comparatively low paying job until their skill increases and subsequently their wages.

To get this benefit the job must be approved by the State Approving Agency. Here is how the procedure works, step by step, in getting this veterans benefit.

a. The veteran goes to an establishment and gets a job. (The Veterans Employment Representative at The State Employment Office is there to help you) Example: Litton Industries or any place that is equipped to train an unskilled worker in a trade until he becomes skilled.

b. The veteran then goes to a Veterans Service Officer and fills out a Form 21-1900, titled, Request For Educational Training.

c. The Veterans Administration will, upon receipt of this form, send a letter to the veteran telling him that his Training Program is approved and tell him how many months entitlement he has plus other pertinent information. A copy of this letter also goes to the Miss. State Approving Agency.

d. The State Approving Agency will visit the place of business to determine whether it meets the training capabilities that are required and if so approve it for training. The establishment might have been pre-approved in which case the employer will be requested to prepare the Veterans Enrollment

Certification (V.A. Form 21E-19999) The V.A. is furnished a copy of this agreement by the State Approving Agency. e. The veterans will start receiving checks from the V.A. depending upon the date the V.A. authorizes the payments. The first check may be for a part of a month and will be accompanied by a Form 21E-6553a. This form must be read carefully and filled out completely and returned to the V.A. each month or no further payments will be made.

Veterans may already be working at a job that can be approved for training benefits. Call or visit your Veterans Service Officer to see what can be done to help you get a job, get training benefits or get a better education. NOTE: The Veterans Service Officer's phone number has been changed. In your phone book look up Hancock County and under District Attorney write Service Officer. Phone number is 467-5404.

Forestry Report

Mississippi's private timberland owners are being urged by State Forester Billy Gaddis to take immediate advantage of forest management services offered by the State Forestry Commission.

The State Forester points out that trained foresters with the Commission can provide assistance in timber management planning, timber sale preparation, and a number of other vital aspects of profitable tree farming.

Gaddis said that it is urgent that private landowners take steps now to get their forest acres fully productive. "We are on the threshold of greater demands for our timber, which can mean abundant markets if we have the timber available," he added. He further stated, however, that without resources to supply the timber using industries, markets will diminish.

The key to increased production is with the private timberland owner who owns seventy-five percent of Mississippi's forested acres. The greatest need according to Gaddis is to plant poorly stocked lands and to control weed tree species. Proper harvesting and utilization are tantamount in increasing timber growth.

The State Forester advises that the Forestry Commission is intensifying its effort to assist timberland owners.

"The well-being of each citizen and the overall growth of Mississippi will be influenced by what we do with our forest land," he concluded.

Are You "Car Careless"?

Number One victim of car neglect is the battery cable and terminal, shown here. According to Car Care Council, who surveyed Independent Garage Owners of America, this part is most overlooked of all preventive maintenance services and parts. Spark plug wires and radiator hoses run a close race for second place.

How long has it been since you've asked someone to take a look at your car's wiring or radiator hose? It may have been quite a while, if you are typical of car owners reported in a poll of 370 automotive repairmen.

The survey, conducted by Car Care Council among members of the Independent Garage Owners of America, shows many motorists tend to ignore battery cables, spark plug wires, radiator hose and pressure cap until failure has resulted.

In the case of battery cables, which topped the list of neglected components, trouble is likely to take the form of starting failure. Especially vulnerable are the connections on the battery itself. Corrosion which accumulates on these surfaces can restrict the flow of current from the battery to the starter, resulting in symptoms similar to a weak or dead battery.

Car Care Council recommends having these terminals removed, cleaned and covered with a protective coating at least twice a year. Deteriorated spark plug wiring usually will result in misfiring, rough running of stalling. In damp weather bad wiring may cause starting failure. Third and fourth places in the CCC survey of car neglect go to radiator hoses and radiator pressure cap, respectively. Both of these components should be checked as part of seasonal cooling system service. Garage owners find their customers don't have this work done as often as they should—and, surprisingly, each of the four leading items is inexpensive to replace or service, according to the Car Care Council.

Whether owners do the work themselves or have it taken care of by their mechanics, it does not take long and is a critical factor in car dependability.

Red Beans And Rice

Adoree Shortle

"Double, double, toil and trouble, fire burn and councils bubble."
(with apologies to Shakespeare)

It's interesting to watch the boiling pot of a local city council, which for years has been kept just barely simmering, but of late, is showing alarming signs of boiling over. Consider the elements within.

One is usually dozing and doesn't know what is going on. Another is usually awake, but doesn't understand what is going on. A third is capable of understanding but is apparently highly susceptible to mal de mer as he shows a decided aversion to ever rocking the boat, or making waves. A fourth one, afflicted with a malady popularly known as "progressive", keeps bringing up beans which have traditionally been left soaking in a state of suspended animation. . . . in a political purgatory, as it were.

No acclaim has ever been won for a totally bland pot of beans, nor has an unimaginative cook ever produced anything of note. By the same token, too many conflicting ingredients can certainly cause a bad aftertaste in the mouth. Perhaps a fait accompli lies in the more aggressive cook using the same spices but with more subtlety, and the realization that he is not obliged to cook the whole thing alone. Without prostituting his principles, a pinch of temperance may bring more cooperation . . . and finally, produce a pot of beans much easier to take!

POLITICAL PUGILISM

Down the road, there is another city council (composed of only three men) who for more than three years has engaged in the fine art of vocal sparring. Although the record may show that they agreed more times than not, it's the disagreements that make the headlines.

Take Monday night for example. During a heated argument between Mayor Warren Carver and Commissioner William Frisbie, it looked as though the fists might soon begin to fly. Voices got higher and Commissioner Andre Arceneaux was refereeing from the sidelines. Newspaper reporters were distraught because, in the event of a "K.O.", there was not a camera to be had. . . . not even a Polaroid on hand. Would it be that this historic event would go pictorially unrecorded for the benefit of future generations? Suddenly, Mayor Carver sighed, and said to Commissioner Frisbie, "You make me tired." Not to be undone, Frisbie retorted, "You make me awful tired." They took the words right out of my mouth.

Drag Strips

To hot rollers, the opening of a new drag strip is a cause for jubilation. But to residents of the neighborhood, the occasion may be less joyful. Do they have legal grounds for complaint?

Unless banned by local statute, a drag strip (or other kind of race track) is a perfectly lawful activity. It may become unlawful, however, because of the way it is run. That is, it may amount to a "nuisance" subject to abatement by court action.

The noise alone may be offensive enough to justify a stop order. Take this case:

Residents living near a suburban drag strip found the noise so unbearable that they had to keep their windows shut. Residents one mile away had to keep their television turned on high. Residents three miles away said the noise ("like a chain saw") could be heard plainly.

Impressed by these tales of woe, a court-ordered the track closed down.

Even if the noise itself isn't too bad, other factors may tilt the scales against the track operators.

Still, if these assorted annoyances are kept within reasonable limits, the mere fact that the track brings some commotion into the neighborhood may be overlooked. Thus:

The main objections to a new midwest race track were 1) that traffic in the neighborhood had increased, and 2) that parking spaces had become harder to find. But this time the court denied an injunction, saying that traffic and parking were problems for the city, not for the operators of the track.

The judge said the right to use the public streets belongs to all members of the public—including racing fans.

Summer Jobs Can Affect Social Security Payments

Earnings from summer jobs can affect the monthly payments of students and other young people who get benefits from social security, according to social security officials here.

"Over 4 million young people under 22 get monthly social security payments as children of retired, disabled, or deceased workers," a social security spokesman said. "Many of them will spend the summer school vacation working. In some cases, this work and earnings will affect their social security benefits."

The amount young people earn at summer or part-time jobs will cause a reduction in their social security payments if their total earnings for the year are more than $1,680, according to the spokesman. "But even if they earn over $1,680, they can get their social security payment for any month in which they neither earn more than $140 nor perform substantial services in self-employment," he said.

Most young people won't earn over $1,680 from a summer vacation job, the spokesman noted. "But if they also work part time during the year, they can easily earn over $1,680 during 1972," he said.

Vacation Trip Tips

Most motorists know that getting an engine tune-up before starting out on a vacation trip is a good idea.

But it's only half the battle when it comes to getting your car ready to perform at its best. A thorough inspection and repair, if necessary, of the car's suspension system is every bit as important, says Chuck Stroberg, chassis product manager of TRW Replacement division, Cleveland, Ohio.

Vacation driving means heavy loads, high speeds and a lot of miles — a real "command performance" for your car. Unless suspension system parts such as shock absorbers, springs, tie rods and ball joints are up to the task, the car owner may be in for an uncomfortable, unsafe journey and premature tire wear.

According to TRW, tell-tale signs of a suspension system in need of a tune-up include:

- "Pulling" to one side or the other
- Unusual noises coming from the suspension system
- Uneven tire wear
- Excessive "play" in the steering wheel
- Failure of the car to level out quickly after going over a bump
- Vibration or "shimmy"
- "Bottoming out" on bumps

"Motorists experiencing any of these conditions should take their car to an alignment specialist, or a neighborhood service station that performs this service, and have the suspension system — front and rear — checked out completely," says Mr. Stroberg.

The alignment specialist will check the curb height to insure that the springs or torsion man and idler arms — for wear and looseness that could allow changes in the "Toe" setting and extreme tire wear.

Christian Institute Offers 'A Better Way' For Youth

by Adoree Shortle
Echo Staff writer

A better way to fill a need is offered to restless youth by the Trinity Christian Training Institute, a new religious endeavor being developed in Bay St. Louis.

Under the direction of William Brown, an ordained minister, the Institute was created as a branch of his Trinity Christian Community in New Orleans, situated in the heart of the Irish Channel.

There, Brown and his staff offer a haven of understanding and acceptance for products of ghetto environments - the flotsam and jetsam of humanity rejected by the more conventional levels of society and churches.

The staff primarily youthful workers from widely varied backgrounds is itself an enlightening example of the scope of accomplishment achieved by the TCC.

The Bay St. Louis Institute is the realization of a dream long held by the minister for a site to provide the opportunity for further religious study in a secluded and wholesome atmosphere.

In the initial phase of development, the Institute will be conducted in two of three recently acquired buildings. In two former residences on Citizen St. are the chapel, library office and recreation areas. Another building at 606 Hancock St. is used as a boys' dormitory for resident male staff members as well as those on retreat.

Essentially the Institute will function as a Bible study college, with the hope of future curriculum expansion, to remain within a context of Christian education. Classes are scheduled to begin September 26 with dedication ceremonies set for October 1. Although open to anyone interested in accepting the group's religious precepts, the Institute is geared primarily toward youth, especially those who are "searching for something better", as a staff member put it. At the Institute, as with the New Orleans establishment, Brown feels the answer can be provided - a life through Christ.

Before classes begin, the facility has been opened to groups of teenagers for retreats with most of the New Orleans staff and several local people acting as host-counselors.

Two weeks ago a busload of 50 teenagers, a Baptist minister and half a dozen youth workers arrived from Amite, La. to spend 48 hours at the Institute. Not a retreat in the usual sense, Brown explained, the activity is more loosely structured, although thoroughly organized and supervised.

A SONG FEST with all the exuberance of youth is enjoyed in the yard of the chapel building of the new Trinity Christian Institute by 50 youngsters from Amite, La. last weekend. The activity was an opening ice-breaker for participants in a two-day retreat hosted by the Institute staff in Bay St. Louis. (Echo staff photo by Adoree Shortle)

Girls are dormitoried in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. John Landon and the Edward Porters; the boys at 606 Hancock St. Fifteen under-25-year-old TCC staff members act as group counselors, each responsible for (and watchful of) those assigned to him or her. Meals are provided at the Landons, where food is prepared, served and consumed by 70 persons with an efficiency and expediency reminiscent of an Army mess hall.

The retreat program is a judicious mixture of recreation and periods of religious exposure. Morning, afternoon and evening prayer services are well-interspersed with pool parties at the Porters', afternoon swimming at the beach and later evening bonfires.

At all times there is music and singing. A guitar leads as youthful voices pour out songs of praise in rock rhythms, calypso and blues, or conventional evangelical style.

Retreat participants, who are generally a cross section of personalities ranging from recalcitrant non-conformers to sedate church members, are told by Brown in a meeting shortly after arrival, "We have a few things we want to share with you."

Always soft-spoken, Brown tells the wary teens where they stand in a matter-of-fact manner. "You don't have to buy it," he assures them, "but it's been such an important part of our lives, we feel the least we can do is share it with you. We'll tell you about it, but you don't have to take our word for anything."

The premise, conviction by example. . . never force feeding. The formula for success with wayward teens: lots of love, lots of understanding, an underlying strength and always, an unfailing sense of humor.

"We can't do much in two days," Brown says with a smile, "but at least we can give them something to think about - the beginning of a realization that there IS a better way."

Although all activities are designed for group participation, Brown and each staff member are always available at any time for private, individual counseling. Working on a one-to-one basis, this approach appears to be the most effective method of communication sought by troubled teens.

In addition to those mentioned, the staff includes Susan and Sally Porter, Carolyn Klentzman, Vance Rutan, Michael Barbera, Charles Holman, who is Institute dean, Barbara Kinnebrew and Ralph Mareno. An executive Board of Directors is composed of just three men, Brown, William Goheen and John Landon, administrative chairman.

Institute buildings and dormitories are being readied for another retreat this weekend as a smaller group is expected from Florida.

Watching Bill Brown work is almost inspiration enough as he moves with an apparent inexhaustible source of energy and self-control. Asked whether or not he ever gets tired after 19 years of working with troubled youth, he answers simply, "I'm not doing it. He is, through me."

Report Given On Areawide Model Project

A six-month progress report on the Hancock County Areawide Model Project for the Elderly was submitted to county supervisors at a recent meeting by Mrs. Gwen H. Gollotte, project coordinator. In the report, which covers the period through July 31, Mrs. Gollotte stated, "Over 450 elderly citizens in Hancock County have been served by our project since March of this year. Those receiving two or more services total 134. The need to expand all services has become apparent during the first six months of our operation. Most of these services can be expanded by utilizing funds already available within your county for third party matching money. A portion of the millage, assessed for the Parks and Recreation Department could be redirected by a resolution of the Board of Supervisors to elderly recreation and services. It is requested that the Board give thoughtful and serious consideration to 1/3 mill of the 3/4 mill presently being assessed.

"Of general interest to the Board of Supervisors and indicative of the concern, interest, and participation in the project, is the fact that 60-100 people attend the recreation sessions held on Mondays at the Valena C. Jones School; volunteers range in age from the very young (Rainbow Girls, Sunshine Singers, Girl Scouts) to the elderly (The American Association of Retired Persons and other older citizens of the area). The 'meals on wheels' program, which began July 17, has averaged serving 35 homebound, isolated elderly citizens a day. Their ages vary from 68 to 91 years. Volunteers who assist with this particular service have been both black and white, teenagers and elderly. Through the cooperation of Hancock General Hospital, Miss Yvonne Artigue, Dietician, it is possible to serve the vitally needed special diets.

"Hancock County has a potential of at least 1,800 persons who could avail themselves of our services. Most urgently needed are additional homemakers, nurses, aides, an additional bus and driver, and a recreation director. Within the near future, the 'meals on wheels' program which has been operating with food preparation at Hancock General and packaging and delivery from Bay High will move to the Valena C. Jones School. It will be possible to not only operate more efficiently from the center, but by fall, hopefully, October, congregated meals could be served in the former cafeteria area utilizing funds from the new federal nutrition program which has allocated the State of Mississippi over a million dollars for elderly nutrition programs.

"As you prepare your budget, please keep in mind that you are dealing with human lives and assisting in maintaining health and happiness for those citizens who built Hancock County into one of the finest places to live in our state. Our generation is fortunate to live in an affluent society. It is our moral obligation to make every service available to our older citizens who are caught in the trap of loss of independence and the high cost of living."

Mrs. Gollotte expressed appreciation to the board for the $1,000 in support money received from the county during the project's first year. Hancock County's project, she said, had received state and national acclaim as being one of the most successful and productive of all projects for the elderly now in operation.

Ten People Arrested During 'Pot Party'

Hancock County Sheriff Sylvan Ladner and his deputies, acting on a reliable tip, broke up a "pot" party Thursday night in Pearlinton which resulted in the arrest of five adults and five juveniles. Arrested in a Pearlinton residence were Mark M. Mosley, 18, Steven B. Metzler, 19, of Nicholson; Loyal L. Piker, Jr., 19, Rodney J. Hillhouse, 18, and Calvin E. Whittington, 20, all of Pearlinton. The five men were booked at the county jail on charges of possession of narcotics, contributing to the delinquency of minors and possession of paraphernalia.

Metzler was also charged with carrying a concealed weapon, a large hunting knife, according to Sheriff Ladner. Metzler was placed under $1,500 bond and the other four men under $1,000 bond each.

The juveniles included three girls, 15 and 16-years-old and two 16-year-old boys from Pearlinton, Waveland and Picayune communities. The juveniles were released to the custody of their parents awaiting action of youth court authorities.

According to special agent Ronald Peterson a search of the house disclosed an ounce and a half of marijuana, cigarette papers and plastic bags for packaging marijuana. Deputies taking part in the raid were Fairley Necaise and James Ladner.

SUICIDE

The word suicide is a whispered word. Family and friends pretend not to hear the dread sound even when mentioned. The truth is that almost everybody at one time or another contemplates suicide. Dr. Joost Neello, author of "Suicide and Mass Suicide," says, "Eighty percent of people admit to having 'played with' suicidal ideas."

Once every minute someone consciously tries to kill himself. Seventy times a day these attempts succeed. Each year in the United States alone some 25,000 persons take their own lives. However, the number of suicides is grossly under-reported. Families are loath to have the death pronounced a suicide because of the social stigma attached.

Authorities do not always agree as to the means of death. For example, some people's whole lifestyle involves a movement toward the brink of destruction through overdrinking, overworking, overdrinking, or overworking—a kind of "installment plan" suicide. Similarly, people who drive recklessly or too fast may be bent on self-destruction. The "altruistic martyr" who gives his life for the honor of "God and country" may also be compelled by camouflaged suicidal motivations.

Environmental factors and the pressures of the life situation have been found to have a definite relationship to suicide. Suicides among doctors, dentists, and lawyers is three times as common as among non-professional white collar workers. The suicide rate is also higher among persons who are in a position of leadership and responsibility. Women outnumber men three to one in attempted suicides. Most men commit suicide by shooting or hanging, while most women use passive means of self-destruction: sleeping pills, poisons, or gas. Women prefer not to shed blood or disfigure their bodies.

Among college students suicide has become the second most frequent cause of death; surpassed only by accidents. However, the suicide problem is at its highest among elderly citizens. In terms of religion, the suicide rate is lowest for Jews, while Protestants and Catholics share the position for highest incidence. Suicide is also less frequent among married people.

There are many clues which can be used to identify the person who is considering his own self-imposed death. There is usually no single reason why a person takes his life but rather such action is the result of multiple factors which differ from individual to individual. The surest sign of intent is an attempt. Any suicide effort must be taken with the greatest seriousness. A composite picture of the person most susceptible to self-destruction would include previous suicide attempt, a suicide threat or gesture, chronic illness, isolation, bereavement, financial stress, domestic difficulties, severe depression, alcoholism, chronic use of bromides or barbiturates, adolescents, or persons over 40 years of age.

There is no clear-cut solution to the profound problem of suicide. The person needs an opportunity to unburden his feelings and to be understood. Suicide should not be approached as a moral issue since the potential suicide is already suffering from a heavy burden of guilt feelings. The development of hope may also move a person out of suicidal preoccupation. Once the immediate emergency is past no one can relax completely. Just prior to suicide many depressed people become extremely active. The emergency is not over until the would-be suicide is at home with life and the emotional problems which led to the suicidal crisis are fully resolved.

For the family of the suicidal victim the tragedy is just beginning and is a bitter experience for all those left behind. In many instances it is the intent of the suicidal victim to punish the family through the occurrence of such bitter feelings. As E. A. Geollmen states, "the suicidal person places his psychological skeleton in the survivor's closet."

Friends may avoid offering needed support through their own embarrassment. Following such a tragedy

THE BAY ST. LOUIS little league queen was crowned recently in pre-game ceremonies held appropriately on the baseball diamond at McDonald Field. Al Geroux, Little League president crowned Robin Corr queen, before a lineup of uniformed members of the six league teams. Miss Corr was escorted by James Craig, captain of the Merchants Bank team. Attendees to the queen and their escorts were Susie Kergosien, in proxy for Kelly Kidd, escort Kerry Geroux; Ray Ann Morreale and Gary Sotak; Janine Cobb and Richard Flanders; Renee Hirstus and Scott Thomas; Tammy Pares and Fred Bultman.

Tea Will Open Symphony Season

The '72-'73 symphony season will be formally inaugurated on September 12 with a membership tea sponsored by the Gulf Coast Symphony Guild. The ladies of the Guild have been busy all summer preparing for the new season. Varied types of social gatherings have been held by members in an effort to acquaint coast residents from Bay St. Louis to Pascagoula with the Gulf Coast Symphony Orchestra and its concert schedule.

The parties have been held to encourage membership in the Symphony Guild, which was formed to give financial and moral support to the symphony orchestra.

This year a special effort is being made to introduce Pascagoula residents to the Symphony and the guild. Ocean Springs resident Mrs. Sidney Upham recently hosted an afternoon tea and Mrs. Don Greene of Fountainbleu will sponsor another in mid-September. Other teas held during the summer in the interest of the Symphony were at the homes of Mrs. Richard Graves of Gulfport, who offered a Symphony Musicales and Mrs. Ellsworth Rauh of Edgewater Apartments. The membership of the Gulf Coast Symphony Guild is presently comprised of ladies from Ocean Springs west to Waveland. The third concert of the New season will be held in Pascagoula and the Guild members are working toward a good turnout from the Pascagoula-Moss Point area.

James Shannon, Director of the Symphony promises a truly exciting season. The initial concert will be held October 21 at the Ocean Springs High School Auditorium. Featured will be Estelle Maxwell, soprano soloist doing arias from Verki and Bizet and an art song by Richard Strauss entitled "Devotion". The orchestra will play the Overture to the Magic Flute by Mozart, Beethoven's 7th Symphony and conclude the program with some light popular music. The December 8 concert, to be held in Biloxi, will feature the Mississippi Coast Ballet Company.

Guild work parties have been active making decorations at the home of Mrs. Ed Gaines every Tuesday morning for the annual Symphony Benefit Ball scheduled for October 5th at the Broadwater Beach Hotel. Mrs. Gaines Ball Chairman, promises that this year's ball is destined to be one of the best and the most beautiful. Tickets to the ball are now available and may be purchased through any Guild member or by contacting Mrs. Ed Gaines, 25 Oakwood Dr., Gulfport or Mrs. William Demoran, 501 Shore Dr., Gulf Hills, Ocean Springs.

The annual Membership Tea will be held this year at the home of Mrs. R. D. Portwood, 1528 Olive St. Gulfport on the afternoon of September 12. Chairman for the Tea is Mrs. Jack Joiner, co-chairman Mrs. Denton Jordan. A cordial invitation is extended to all interested area residents to come and get acquainted. Tickets to the concert series will be available as well as tickets to the Ball.

Burglary: A Labor Day Hazard

While millions of Americans are enjoying the Labor Day week-end in the country, at beaches, or camping, their unattended homes and apartments will be prime targets for burglary.

Last year more than 1,170,000 residences were burglarized, many of them on holiday week-ends when their occupants were "out of town."

INFANT BAPTIZED

Christina Michelle, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Ryan, was baptized last weekend at Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church with Very Rev. Gregory Johnson, pastor, officiating.

Godparents were a paternal uncle and aunt Mike and Susan Ryan.

Following the christening a reception was held at the home of the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James Ryan.

Notify a neighbor or your apartment manager when leaving for an extended period of time so that they can watch the premises and have a neighbor collect your newspapers. Letting newspapers accumulate on the doorstep is as good as leaving a note to burglars that the premises are unoccupied.

Place a broom handle or similar type of rod at the base of all sliding glass doors or windows to prevent them from being forced open.

Keep an inventory of all your possessions. It's amazing how hard it is to remember after a burglary just exactly what is missing. Also, keep on file the serial numbers of all major appliances, television sets, guns, etc.

Don't leave the garage door open when you leave. An empty garage visible to all is an invitation to lay breakers.

Adopting a more thoughtful and protective attitude can reduce burglary. The investment in time and money is small compared to the protection afforded.

Schools Announce Free Meal Policy

The following schools have announced a free meal policy for children unable to pay the full price: St. Stanislaus, Our Lady of the Gulf, St. Clare, Annunciation, St. Rose de Lima, all schools in the Hancock County School system and all schools in the Bay St. Louis Separate Municipal School District.

Local school officials have adopted the following family size and income scale to assist them in determining eligibility.

Family Size	Family Income
1	$0-$2,450
2	0-$3,209
3	0-$3,968
4	0-$4,727
5	0-$5,486
6	0-$6,245
7	0-$7,004
8	0-$7,763
9	0-$8,522
10	0-$9,281
11	0-$10,040
12	0-$10,799

number of persons in the family and any unusual circumstances or hardships which affect the family's ability to pay for meals. The information provided on the application will be confidential and will be used only for the purpose of determining eligibility.

Under the provisions of the policy the principal will review applications and determine eligibility. If a parent is dissatisfied with the ruling of the local official, he may make a request either orally or in writing for a hearing to appeal the decision.

Brother Pierre, S.C., whose address is P.O. Box 351, Bay St. Louis, has been designated as the Hearing Official. Hearing procedures are outlined in the policy.

The policy also provides that there will be no identification of or discrimination against any student unable to pay the full cost of a lunch.

A complete copy of the policy is on file in each school and in the office of the principal where it may be reviewed by the interested patron.

NOTE: Meals mean lunches and/or breakfasts where applicable.

ORDINANCE NO. 77

CITY OF
WAVELAND, MISSISSIPPI

AN ORDINANCE ESTABLISHING CONTROL MEASURES IN SPECIAL FLOOD HAZARD AREAS FOR THE CITY OF WAVELAND, MISSISSIPPI, IN CONJUNCTION WITH REGULATIONS

ESTABLISHED BY THE FEDERAL INSURANCE ADMINISTRATION, U. S. DEPARTMENT OF HOUSING AND URBAN DEVELOPMENT, FOR MAINTAINING ELIGIBILITY FOR THE CITY OF WAVELAND TO PARTICIPATE IN THE NATIONAL FLOOD INSURANCE PROGRAM;

WHEREAS the Mayor and Board of Aldermen deem it necessary to enact such an ordinance for the purpose of promoting the health, safety, morals and general welfare of the city and to meet requirements of the Federal Insurance Administration, U. S. Department of Housing and Urban Development, for maintaining eligibility for the City of Waveland to participate in the National Flood Insurance Program; and

WHEREAS the Mayor and Board of Aldermen have divided the city into districts and have prepared regulations pertaining to such districts designed to minimize damage caused by flooding; to take into account floodplain management programs in effect in neighboring areas; to restrict or prohibit uses which are dangerous to health, safety or property in times of flood or cause excessive increases in flood heights or velocities; to require that uses vulnerable to floods, including facilities which serve such uses, be protected against flood damage at the time of initial construction; to protect individuals from buying lands which are unsuited for intended purposes because of flood hazard; and to prescribe minimum requirements for land use and control measures in special flood hazard areas; and

WHEREAS, the Mayor and Board of Aldermen have given reasonable consideration, among other things, to the character of the districts and their peculiar suitability for particular uses, with a view to conserving the value of buildings and encouraging the most appropriate use and control of land throughout the city; now therefore

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE MAYOR AND BOARD OF ALDERMEN OF THE CITY OF W A V E L A N D, MISSISSIPPI, THAT:

SECTION I. This ordinance shall be designated as follows:

Article VI. Responsibilities of the Building Official and Board of Adjustment

ARTICLE I. PURPOSE OF CHAPTER

A. The principal purposes of this chapter are to promote the public health, safety and general welfare; to minimize damage caused by flooding; to take into account floodplain management programs in effect in neighboring areas; to restrict or prohibit uses which are dangerous to health, safety or property in times of flood or cause excessive increases in flood heights or velocities; to require that uses vulnerable to floods, including facilities which serve such uses, be protected against flood damage at the time of initial construction; to protect individuals from buying lands which are unsuited for intended purposes because of flood hazard; and to prescribe minimum requirements for special flood hazard areas in the City of Waveland as determined by the Federal Insurance Administration (FIA) of the U. S. Department of Housing and Urban Development. These regulations are based upon relevant technical storm data specific to Hancock County and the City of Waveland. These control measures must be applied uniformly throughout all privately and publicly owned land within the special flood hazard areas, based upon standards set forth in these regulations, as prescribed by the Federal Insurance Administration.

B. The FIA official flood hazard maps nos. H 20045 274002 and I 20045 274002 are hereby made official and a part of these regulations, and are on file with the City Clerk and the zoning official. Also, the following maps will be used for supporting information:

"Hurricane Camille Tidal Floods of August, 1969, Along the Gulf Coast," prepared by the U. S. Geological Survey.

"Hurricane Critical Exposure Zone Maps," prepared by the Coast Code Administration, September, 1971.

ARTICLE II. DEFINITIONS

A. For the purpose of this ordinance certain terms and words used herein shall be interpreted as follows:

1. BOARD OF ADJUSTMENT: The City's

Zoning Board of Adjustment, appointed by the Mayor and Board of Aldermen to hear and decide any appeals to the regulations spelled out by this ordinance.

2. FEDERAL INSURANCE ADMINISTRATION: The individual to whom the Secretary of the U. S. Department of Housing and Urban Development has delegated the administration of the National Flood Insurance Program.

3. FLOODPLAIN MANAGEMENT PROGRAM: An overall program of corrective and preventive measures for reducing flood damage, including but not limited to emergency preparedness plans, flood control works, and land use and control measures.

4. FLOODPROOFING: Any combination of structural and nonstructural additions, changes, or adjustments to properties and structures which reduce or eliminate flood damage to lands, water and sanitary facilities, structures, and contents of buildings as determined by the Board of Adjustment.

5. LAND USE AND CONTROL MEASURES: Zoning ordinances, subdivision regulations, building codes, and other applications and extensions of the normal police power, to provide standards and effective enforcement provisions for the prudent use and occupancy of flood prone areas.

6. LEVEL OF THE 100-YEAR FLOOD: The highest level of flooding that, on the average, is likely to occur once every 100 years or that has a 1.0 percent chance of occurring each year.

7. NEW CONSTRUCTION: The first placement of permanent construction on a site, such as the pouring of slabs or footings, or any work beyond the stage of excavation. For a structure without a basement or poured footings, the start of construction includes the first permanent framing or assembly of the structure or any part thereof or its pilings or foundation, or the affixing of any prefabricated structure or mobile home to its permanent site. Permanent construction does not include land preparation, land clearing, grading, filling, excavation for basement, footings, piers, or foundations; erection of temporary forms; installation of sewer, gas and water pipes, or electric or other service lines from the street, or access to the property of accessory buildings such as garages or sheds, not occupied as dwelling units or not a part of the main structure.

8. OFFICIAL FLOOD HAZARD MAP: An official map or plat of a community, issued and approved by the Federal Insurance Administration, on which the boundaries of the special flood hazard areas have been drawn.

9. REGULATORY FLOOD: A flood which is representative of large floods known to have occurred generally in the area.

10. REGULATORY FLOOD PROTECTION ELEVATION: The elevation of 12.5 feet mean sea level to which uses regulated by this ordinance are required to be elevated or floodproofed.

11. RESIDENTIAL STRUCTURE: A building or portion thereof, designed or used exclusively for residential occupancy but not including trailers, hotels, motels, and motor lodges.

12. SPECIAL EXCEPTION: A special exception is a use that would not be appropriate generally or without restriction throughout the district but which, if controlled as to number, area, location or relation to the neighborhood, would promote the public health, safety, welfare, morals, order, comfort, convenience, appearance, prosperity, or general welfare.

13. SPECIAL FLOOD HAZARD AREAS: Areas within the floodplain that have been designated by the Federal Insurance Administration or official flood hazard maps as "special flood hazard areas" which may be flooded in the event of a regulatory flood.

14. SUBSTANTIAL IMPROVEMENT: Any repair, reconstruction, or improvement of a structure, the cost of which equals or exceeds fifty (50) percent of the actual cash value of the structure either (1) before the improvement is started, or (2) if the structure has been damaged and is being restored, before the damage occurred. Substantial improvement is started when the first alteration of any structural part of the building commences.

15. VARIANCE: A departure from the terms of this ordinance, where such departure will not be contrary to the public interest, and where owing to conditions peculiar to the property because of its size, shape or topography, and not as a result of the actions of the applicant, the literal enforcement of the ordinance would result in unnecessary and undue hardship.

ARTICLE III. BUILDING PERMITS REQUIRED

A. SECURING OF PERMIT

1. It shall be unlawful to proceed with any new construction, substantial improvement, or major repair to a building within Special Flood Hazard Areas of the City of Waveland without having previously obtained a permit properly numbered and approved from the City's Building Department.

2. All applications for building permits shall be made to the Zoning Administration, and shall include the following where applicable: plans drawn to scale, showing the nature, location, dimensions, and elevation of the lot; existing or proposed structures, fill, storage of materials; and such other information as may be necessary to determine conformance with the ordinance and other applicable ordinances of said city.

3. All construction must comply with the City's Building Code, as well as the ordinance and shall be subject to inspection whether a building permit is required or not, at the discretion of the Building Official.

B. REQUIRED LOWEST FLOOR ELEVATION AND CERTIFICATION

1. All building permits issued for new construction must have imprinted upon them the mean sea level elevation of the lowest floor (including basement) and the level of the regulatory flood protection elevation (12.5 feet mean sea level).

2. It shall be the responsibility of the Building Department to act as depository for the lowest floor elevation records and to assign required lowest floor elevation. The notation shall be made on the face of the building permit. The lowest floor of new residential construction must, at a minimum, be elevated to the level of the regulatory flood protection elevation (12.5 feet MSL).

3. Upon application for a building permit, and prior to the issuance of a Use and Occupancy Certificate, the applicant must present a Grade Certificate to the Building Department which shows the mean sea level elevation of the lowest floor of the structure.

ARTICLE IV. GENERAL PROVISIONS

A. REQUIRED CONFORMANCE IN THE SPECIAL FLOOD HAZARD AREAS

1. All new construction or substantial improvements of residential structures within the special flood hazard areas must have the lowest floor (including basement) elevated to or above 12.5 feet mean sea level.

2. All new construction of public utilities and facilities including water, sewer, gas, and electrical shall be located, elevated or constructed to minimize or eliminate flood damage.

3. If a nonresidential structure and its attendant utility and sanitary facilities are constructed below the regulatory flood protection elevation (12.5 feet MSL), then the nonresidential structure and its attendant utility and sanitary facilities must be floodproofed up to the level of the regulatory flood protection elevation (12.5 feet MSL).

4. All new developments must have adequate drainage facilities provided to reduce exposure to flood hazards and must be consistent with the need to minimize flood damage.

5. In riverine situations, until a floodway has been designated, no use, including land fill, may be permitted unless the applicant demonstrates that the proposed use, when combined with all other existing and anticipated uses, will not increase the water surface elevation of the 100-year flood more than one (1) foot at any point.

6. Any alteration, addition, or repair to a nonconforming structure which would substantially increase its flood damage potential shall be protected as specified in Article V, B, 3 below of this ordinance.

7. All building permit applications or major repairs within the special flood hazard area shall be required to use construction materials and utility equipment which are resistant to flood damage, and construction methods and practices used must be designed to minimize flood damage.

8. All new structures in the special flood hazard area shall be adequately anchored in accordance with the City's building code.

9. All new construction or substantial improvements within the special flood hazard area, including prefabricated and mobile homes shall be protected against flood damage and be anchored to prevent flotation, collapse, or lateral movement of the structure.

10. Consideration of individual flood plain management programs in neighboring counties and cities shall be given in an approach to overall flood management within the city.

ARTICLE V. PERMITTED USES AND SPECIAL EXCEPTIONS

A. PERMITTED USES

The following uses shall be permitted within the special flood hazard area provided they are allowed within that particular zoning district of the city's zoning ordinance:

1. Agricultural uses such as general farming, pasture, grazing, outdoor plant nurseries, horticulture, truck farming, forestry, sod farming, and wild crop harvesting.

2. Industrial-commercial uses such as loading areas, parking areas, airport landing strips.

3. Private and public recreational uses such as golf courses, tennis courts, driving ranges, archery ranges, picnic grounds, boat launching ramps, piers, wharves, swimming areas, parks, wildlife and nature preserves, game farms, fish hatcheries, shooting preserves, target ranges, trap and skeet ranges, hunting and fishing areas, hiking and horseback riding trails.

4. Residential uses such as lawns, gardens, parking areas and play areas.

5. Residential structures constructed on piles or pilings, provided they are elevated above the regulatory flood protection elevation (12.5 feet MSL).

6. Structures constructed on fill so that the first floor and basement floor are above the regulatory flood protection elevation (12.5 feet MSL). The fill shall be at a point no lower than one (1) foot below the regulatory flood protection elevation for the particular area and shall extend at such elevation at least fifteen (15) feet beyond the limits of any structure or building erected thereon. However, no use shall be constructed which will adversely affect the capacity of channels of any tributary to the main stream, drainage facility or system.

B. SPECIAL EXCEPTIONS

1. The following uses may be permitted; only upon application to the zoning administrator and the issuance of a special exception by the Board of Adjustment.

2. Where existing streets or utilities are at elevations which make compliance with A, 6 above impractical or in other special circumstances the Board of Adjustment may authorize other techniques for elevation of residences.

Structures other than residences shall ordinarily be elevated on fill as provided in A, 6 above, but may, in special circumstances, be otherwise elevated or protected as provided in 3 below, to a point above the regulatory flood protection elevation (12.5 feet MSL).

3. Upon consideration of the purposes of this ordinance, the Board of Adjustment may attach such conditions to the granting of Special Exceptions or variances as it deems necessary to further the purpose of this ordinance. Among such conditions without limitation because of specific enumeration may be included:

a. Modification of waste disposal and water supply facilities.

b. Limitations on periods of use and operation.

c. Imposition of operational controls, sureties, and deed restrictions.

d. Requirements for construction of channel modifications, dikes, levees, and other protective measures.

e. Floodproofing measures. Floodproofing measures such as the following shall be designed consistent with the flood protection elevation for the particular area, flood velocities, durations, rate of rise, hydrostatic and hydrodynamic forces, and other factors associated with the regulatory flood. The Board of Adjustment shall require that the applicant submit a plan or document certified by a registered professional engineer that the floodproofing measures are consistent with the regulatory flood protection elevation and associated flood factors for the particular area. The following floodproofing measures may be required without limitation because of specific enumeration:

(1) Anchorage to resist flotation and lateral movement.

(2) Installation of watertight doors, bulkheads, and shutters, or similar methods of construction.

(3) Reinforcement of walls to resist water pressures.

(4) Use of paints, membranes, or mortars to reduce seepage of water through walls.

(5) Addition of mass or weight to structures to resist flotation.

(6) Installation of pumps to lower water levels in structures.

(7) Construction of water supply and waste treatment systems so as to prevent the entrance of floodwaters.

(8) Pumping facilities or comparable practices for subsurface drainage systems for buildings to relieve external foundation wall and basement floor pressures.

(9) Construction to resist rupture or collapse caused by water pressure or floating debris.

(10) Installation of valves or controls on sanitary and storm drains which will permit the drains to be closed to prevent backup of sewage and storm waters into the buildings or structures. Gravity draining of basements may be eliminated by mechanical devices.

(11) Location of all electrical equipment, circuits and installed electrical appliances in a manner which will assure they are not subject to flooding and to provide protection from inundation by the regulatory flood.

(12) Location of any structural storage facilities for chemicals, explosives, buoyant materials, flammable liquids or other toxic materials which could be hazardous to public health, safety, and welfare in a manner which will assure that the facilities are situated at elevations above the height associated with the regulatory flood protection elevation or are adequately floodproofed to prevent flotation of storage containers, or damage to storage containers which could result in the escape of toxic materials into floodwaters.

4. The Board of Adjustment may authorize the location of uses listed in 5, below, and other similar uses provided they are allowed within that particular zoning district of the city's zoning ordinance at an elevation below the regulatory flood protection elevation (12.5 feet MSL) if such uses will not be subject to substantial flood damage and which will not cause flood damage to other lands.

5. The following uses which involve structures (temporary or permanent), fill, or storage of materials or equipment may be permitted only upon application to the zoning administrator and the issuance of a Special Exception by the Board of Adjustment.

a. Uses or structures accessory to open space or Special Exception uses.

b. Circuses, carnivals, and similar transient amusement enterprises.

c. Drive-in theaters, new and used car lots, roadside stands, signs and billboards.

d. Extraction of sand, gravel and other materials.

e. Marinas, boat rentals, docks.

f. Railroads, streets, bridges, utility transmission lines, and pipelines.

g. Storage yards for equipment, machinery or materials.

h. Kennels and stables.

i. Other uses similar in nature described in A and B above which are consistent with the purposes set out in this ordinance.

ARTICLE VI. RESPONSIBILITIES OF THE BUILDING OFFICIAL AND BOARD OF ADJUSTMENT

A. It shall be the responsibility of the building official to assure that:

1. The first floor elevation of new residential structures be at or above the level of the regulatory flood protection elevation (12.5 feet MSL).

2. All new construction or substantial improvements of non-residential structures within the special flood hazard area shall have the lowest floor including basement elevated to or above the level of the regulatory flood protection elevation (12.5 feet MSL), or together with attendant utility and sanitary facilities must be floodproofed up to the level of the regulatory flood protection level (12.5 feet MSL).

B. It shall be the responsibility of the Board of Adjustment to assure that:

1. The applicant submit a plan or document in triplicate drawn to scale showing the nature, location, dimensions, and elevation of the lot, existing or proposed structures, fill, storage of materials, and the relationship of the above to the location of the regulatory flood protection elevation (12.5 feet MSL).

2. The applicant submit a plan or document in triplicate drawn to scale showing the nature, location, dimensions, and elevation of the lot, existing or proposed structures, fill, storage of materials, and the relationship of the above to the location of the regulatory flood protection elevation (12.5 feet MSL).

ARTICLE VII. RULES FOR INTERPRETATION OF SPECIAL FLOOD HAZARD AREA BOUNDARIES

A. The boundaries of the Special Flood Hazard Areas shall be determined by scaling distances on the FIA official flood-hazard map using supporting information from the "Hurricane Camille Tidal Floods of August, 1969, Along the Gulf Coast," prepared by the U. S. Geological Survey, and the "Hurricane Critical Exposure Zone Maps," prepared by the Coast Code Administration. Where interpretation is needed as to the exact location of the boundaries of the special flood hazard areas as shown on the FIA official flood hazard map the Board of Adjustment shall make the necessary interpretation.

ARTICLE VIII. WAIVER OF REGULATIONS

A. FUNCTION OF THE BOARD OF ADJUSTMENT

1. It shall hereby be the function of the Board of Adjustment to hear petitions supporting waivers in these regulations.

B. PROCEDURE FOR APPEAL FROM THE DECISION OF THE BUILDING OFFICIAL

1. Any applicant for a permit from the Building Official required by these flood protection provisions whose application has been refused or revoked, or any person who has been ordered by the Building Official to incur any expense, or any person who feels that there are practical difficulties or unnecessary hardships involved in the way of carrying out the strict enforcement of these provisions or where it is alleged that there is an error in any order, requirement, decision, or any determination made by the Building Official may, within fifteen (15) days after being notified of such refusal or order, appeal from the decision of the Building Official to the Board of Adjustment by giving the Building Official notice in writing that he will so appeal. Said notice shall be accompanied by a check in the amount of twenty-five ($25) dollars, which amount is to be retained by the city.

C. IT SHALL BE THE DUTY OF THE BOARD OF ADJUSTMENT:

1. To hear and decide appeals where it is alleged there is error in any order, requirement, decision, or determination made by the Building Official in the enforcement of these special flood hazard area regulations.

2. To hear and decide special exceptions to the terms of this ordinance upon which the Board of Adjustment is authorized to pass under this ordinance.

3. To pass upon variances where there are practical difficulties or unnecessary hardships in the way of carrying out strict enforcement of these special flood hazard area regulations, to vary or modify the requirements of any of the regulations or provisions of such articles relating to the construction or alteration of buildings or structures so that the spirit of these provisions shall be observed, public safety and welfare secured, and substantial justice done.

4. To interpret the intent or meaning of these special flood hazard area regulations and so advise the Building Official and to recommend to the local governmental body such amendments or revisions as may be required from time to time to meet changing conditions.

5. In order to carry out the above mentioned conditions, the Board of Adjustment may reverse or affirm wholly or in part, or may modify the order, requirement, decision or determination of the Building Official, or to decide in favor of the applicant in any matters on which it is required to pass under these provisions, or to effect any variation in these provisions.

6. Decisions of the Board of Adjustment shall state in writing the waivers or denials granted and conditions, if any, as they may require in such action. All decisions shall be kept on file, and a certified copy sent to the applicant by certified mail. The Building Official shall abide by the actions taken by the Board of Adjustment.

ARTICLE IX. PENALTIES FOR VIOLATION OF LAND USE AND CONTROL MEASURES FOR SPECIAL FLOOD HAZARD AREAS

A. Under authority of Section 3596 of the Mississippi Code of 1942, Recompiled, the City of Waveland is authorized to collect fines for violation of Building and Zoning Regulations. The owner or general agent of a building or premises where a violation of any regulation for special flood hazard areas is committed or the general agent, architect, builder, contractor, or any other person who assists in such violation or who maintains any building or premises in which the violation exists shall be fined not less than ten ($10) dollars and not more than one hundred ($100) dollars, and each day such violation continues shall constitute a separate offense.

ARTICLE X. CONFLICT OF A SPECIAL FLOOD HAZARD AREA REGULATIONS WITH OTHER ORDINANCES

SECTION II. VALIDITY

If for any reason, any section, paragraph, subdivision, clause, phrase, or provision of this ordinance shall be held invalid, it shall not affect the remaining provisions of this, or any other ordinance of the city, to which these rules and regulations relate.

How to Raise a Delinquent: Ten Easy Rules

- Prepared by the Police Department of Houston, Texas
1. Begin at infancy to give the child everything he wants. In this way he will grow up to believe the world owes him a living.
 2. When he picks up bad words, laugh at him. This will make him think he's cute.
 3. Never give him any spiritual training. Wait until he is 21 and then let him "decide for himself."
 4. Pick up everything he leaves lying around — books, shoes, clothes. Do everything for him so that he will be experienced in throwing all responsibility on others.
 5. Quarrel frequently in his presence. In this way he will not be too shocked when the home is broken later.
 6. Give a child all the spending money he wants. Never let him earn his own. Why should he have things as tough as you had them?
 7. Satisfy his every craving for food, drink and comfort. Denial may lead to harmful frustrations.
 8. Take his part against neighbors, teachers, policemen. They are all prejudiced against your child.
 9. When he gets into real trouble, apologize for yourself by saying, "I never could do anything with him."
 10. Prepare for a life of grief. You are bound to have it.

Armenian Cracking Bread

Crisp Armenian Cracking Bread is an intriguing yeast bread rolled water-thin — originally for use as scoops in the absence of silverware. Today, this brittle bread still serves for "dip dunking."

Watch this ethnic bread start conversation at your next informal party. Its delicious, crisp, wheat flavor provides a welcome change from conventional "dunkers." And no need to worry about leftovers — the bread stays cracking fresh for weeks.

Only three ingredients — enriched self-rising flour, yeast and water — are needed. Simply blend the three together into a moderately stiff dough, knead 3 to 4 minutes and, after a 2-hour rising, roll thin on baking sheets. The thinner you roll, the crisper your bread, and the more the edges will curl while baking.

This snack bread is especially nutritious when made with enriched self-rising flour because it contains the three B-vitamins — thiamine, niacin and riboflavin — and the minerals, iron and calcium, added at no extra cost or calories to the consumer.

ARMENIAN CRACKING BREAD

- 5 1/2 to 6 1/2 cups enriched self-rising flour
1 package yeast
2 cups lukewarm water (125 to 130°)
- Stir together 2 cups flour and yeast. Add water; beat until smooth, about 2 minutes on medium speed of electric mixer or 300 strokes by hand. Add 1 cup flour and beat 1 minute on medium speed, or 150 strokes by hand. Stir in more flour to make a moderately stiff dough. Turn onto lightly floured surface and knead 3 to 4 minutes. Shape into ball and place in greased bowl, turning to grease all sides. Cover; let rise in warm place (80 to 85°) for 2 hours. Divide dough into six equal parts and roll each very thin on greased baking sheet. Bake in preheated 425° oven about 12 to 18 minutes, or until lightly browned and crisp. Remove from baking sheet immediately.
- *Spoon flour into dry measuring cup; level. Do not scoop.

Monroe Doctrine

DECEMBER 2, 1823

"... We owe it, therefore, to candour, and to the amicable relations existing between the United States and those powers, to declare that we should consider any attempt on their part to extend their system to any portion of this hemisphere as dangerous to our peace and safety. With the existing colonies or dependencies of any European power we have not interfered and shall not interfere. But with the governments who have declared their independence and maintained it, and whose independence we have, on great consideration and on just principles, acknowledged, we could not view any interposition for the purpose of oppressing them, or controlling in any other manner their destiny, by any European power, in any other light than as the manifestation of an unfriendly disposition toward the United States. It is impossible that the allied powers should extend their political system to any portion of either continent without endangering our peace and happiness; nor can any one believe that our southern brethren, if left to themselves, would adopt it of their own accord. It is equally impossible, therefore, that we should behold such interposition, in any form, with indifference."

Most fishermen enjoyed some good fishing over the week and with perfect weather and tides falling all day which is excellent for fly fishing for both perch and bass. Some speckles as usual were caught mostly with live mullets, croakers and shrimp. Red fish, big croakers and flounders were gotten on dead shrimp.

Some flounders are being speared while soft crabbing is taboo. Don't know the reason but there ain't been no soft crabs around even though the tides have been low each night.

All streams around the Pearl River area have been producing plenty green Trout. Some nice size ones. Ain't nothing to catch the limit in a few hours of fishing.

As proof yours Truly and Ray Garner caught the limit of bass 2 days in a row the past week. The limit is 15 per man for one day's fishing. It has been a pleasure getting them.

Lamar Bassett and Henry Capdepon, Jr., have been catching their share of bass. Both are ardent fishermen. Am sure they do fly fishing.

Dr. John Rutherford III has also been catching bass and perch when he can get the time to go. He does mostly lake fishing. Been getting some big perch, he said.

John Rutherford is always among the many who work at Our Lady of the Gulf Church Fair. John was kept busy frying fish Friday night and Shrimp Saturday and Sunday nights. He is a cook out of this world. Wouldn't be a church fair without Big John. His partner was Tony Morreale.

About a week ago Raoul Teillard and Gene Monti were fishing in the Big Cut off up Jourdan. They hooked some big sharks. Lost 7 hooks. Raoul said a couple of them measured 6 feet long. Didn't know, there were sharks up the river. Don't doubt their statement, however. They didn't know what kind they were.

Young folks had a time fishing in the Fish Pond at the church fair. Instead of fish, they caught prizes.

Glen and David Estapa with their Dad, John Estapa and

SPORTSMAN OF THE WEEK

J.B. REDDING was with the L&N Railroad a long time. He is an ardent salt water fisherman and resides in the Bay. J.B. still catches his share of fish.

Curley Pitolo have been catching some nice green trout lately. They all fly fish. John put it on the boys in the number caught. Experience will tell, Eh, John?

J.D. McCullough is another ardent fisherman. He uses the fly rod. He said he has been catching some mighty big perch lately in a local lake. His wife Lucille uses a perch pole with worms and other live bait. Gets her share of perch and bass, too.

One of our local soft ball teams participated in the state tournament at Jackson last week. They landed in 4th place. Won their 1st game 28-6. Donald Strong is one of the players. Was an effort for him to play at night. Come home and return for the next night's game after working all day. He made it, however. Real sportsman will do anything to participate in their favorite sport.

Tuby Necaize loves to throw a cast net. He has been catching some real mullets. Eating them is better, he claims.

Was a pleasure meeting Matt Howard and Mr. and Mrs. Sam P. Mitchell and his wife, Ruby. All are Salt water fishermen from Waveland. The Mitchells recently visited in Scotland at Edenburg. Sam hadn't seen his brother in 30 years. You can bet it was a happy reunion.

John and Mary Rogach are not much at fishing they said. But when it comes to eating them. They are experts. Commute most week ends from New Orleans.

Jos. P. Carona and his fishing partner were down from McComb, Miss. to do some fishing in Pearl River. Joe has a real fly fishing boat

Miss Barbara Houston of Starkville, Miss. who has just returned from Ecuador where she was doing mission work, visited over the weekend with her uncle and aunt Mr. and Mrs. Talmadge Rayborn.

Mrs. Cora Vetter Brown and children Brandi Lynn and Sheri Lynn of Selma, Ala. were recent guests of her parents Mr. and Mrs. Al Vetter. Visiting in the Vetter home last weekend were her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Pippen and mother Mrs. Mae Pippen of Laurel, Miss.

Mary Beth and Michelle Rhodes of Jackson are visiting this week with their grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Nelius Rhodes. Mr. and Mrs. Rhodes had as weekend guests their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Doc Rhodes of Gautier, Miss.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Marochino and daughter Barbara have returned from a visit with relatives in Chicago. They were accompanied back by Miss Paula Kundert who visited with them for two weeks.

Mrs. A. G. Favre, her daughter Inez, and grandson Kenneth Scianna spent several days last week in Panama City, Fla.

Mrs. Guy T. Bufkin returned Wednesday from a tour of Canada. While there she attended a reunion of residents and former residents of Parry Island, and was presented a prize for having traveled the farthest to attend the event.

Miss Vivian Smith of New York has returned home after a two-week visit with her grandparents Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Prague.

Mrs. W. S. O'Kelley of Shreveport, La. is visiting with her son-in-law and daughter Mr. and Mrs. Fred McDonald and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Mauffray and children, Michelle, Michael, Laura and Paul of Muncie, Ind. and her mother, Mrs. Lawrence Wurster of Monroe, Mich. have returned home after a weeks visit with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Alden Mauffray.

and uses it to advantage. Will show you some of our secret spots, Joe.

Must have been a thrill for Alden Mauffray to be on T.V. last week. He was with Kirk Corney news caster for WWL, Channel 4. Alden gave an interesting account of what happened on our local beach during hurricane Camille. Knew he was a fisherman but didn't know he was an announcer, also.

According to Clayton Seely the Thieve's Market at Waveland has folded up, as the put it. It ain't no more.

Learned recently that Scallops, like big clams, and sole fish come from the North Sea. Sole fish resemble flounders. They are found in cold, deep water and when fried in deep fat, boiled or baked make an edible Seafood. This information was given us by Sam Mitchell.

Clark M. Hoffpauer, Director of the Louisiana Wild Life and Fisheries Commission, announced that the fall shrimping season for inside waters opened at 12:01 A.M. on August 21, 1972 and remain open until December 21, 1972.

Commission biologists have predicted that this fall crop should produce a good season.

Hoffpauer also noted that the legal size count will be 68 shrimp to the pound and that this will be strictly enforced.

Sorry to hear that Nolan Ladner was in Gulfport Memorial Hospital for surgery. Hurry and get well, Nolan.

Good news: John Scaffide,

Jr., is home to stay. He has finished his studies at Ole Miss. The fish had better look out.

There was a meeting of the Bay-Waveland Gun and Rod Club at the American Legion Home in Bay St. Louis on Thursday, August 17. A shrimp supper was served the members of the club. The shrimp were caught by some of the members. Present and back business was taken up. Robert V. Magee, president, presided. If you are a real sportsman you should join the club. Meet other fishermen and hunters. You'll like it!

Noah Garcia is another of our local sportsmen. He has been a hunter and fisherman all his life besides going floundering, soft crabbing, frogging, etc. You name it and he is always ready to go.

Bernice, Joe Scaffide's wife makes the best crab stew anywhere according to Ben Mutter, her son-in-law.

Lloyd Mutter is a gonna go soft crabbing. Still waiting to go with you Lloyd. Lloyd is Ben Mutter's brother.

SPECIAL NOTICE Espiritu Summer SEMINAR

Every young man and woman today between the ages of 14 and 21 is being drawn into the camp of the anti-Christ with its many tentacles of secularism, materialism, moral perversion, ecumenism, worldly pleasure, academic and spiritual heresy, rebellion, and loss of true spiritual values.

How can they possibly resist the overwhelming pressures to conform which assault them from every side—friends, society, church, and school? The diabolical pressures to conform to the satanic kingdom of the one-world brotherhood now being erected upon the smoldering ruins of morality and truth!

Where are sincere young Catholics to find a source of truth, grace, light and guidance to resist these satanic forces and defend themselves against the barrage of corruption and perversion permeating our society and our churches?

A unique opportunity for such sincere young men and women to strengthen themselves for the increasingly difficult battle to preserve and defend their holy Faith will be offered by the forthcoming ESPIRITU SUMMER SEMINAR OF APOSTOLIC FORMATION.

Every sincere Catholic teenager will want to be present for this unique and vitally important week of prayer, study, spiritual exercises, and apostolic formation! Every sincere Catholic parent will spare no sacrifice to be certain that their son or daughter is present, knowing that the salvation of their soul could hang in the balance!

Whom will you follow in these days of the advent of the satanic kingdom? CHRIST OR ANTI-CHRIST? The One, True Church of Jesus Christ or the "new" church of the world brotherhood? Will you wear the mark of the Beast, or of the Woman (Mary)? Your participation (or non-participation) in this Summer Seminar could well determine the answer!

Send in your advance registration NOW—only a certain number of applications can be accepted. The Seminar dates are Aug. 27 - Sept. 3. You will be notified as to the exact location and further information upon acceptance of your application.

Please consider my application to participate in the 1972 ESPIRITU SUMMER SEMINAR. I have enclosed my letter of at least 250 words explaining why I wish to participate and what I will do to make good use of this week of apostolic formation. Enclosed Seminar fee of $75.00 (includes board and meals) or deposit of (non-refundable minimum deposit of $25.00 is necessary with application.)
